DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

2. Claims 14-20, 23, 24, and 27-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cohen US 5,947,672.

3. Cohen shows a hang tag 10 having a slot which meets Applicant's claim limitations. The claimed grommet is considered to be met by Cohen's structure which shows a "reinforced" type opening in the tag.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 21, 22, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cohen US 5,947,672 in view of Machlica US 5,910,353.

6. Cohen shows the claimed invention, but lacks a cross-laminated material. Machlica teaches the use of a tag made of cross-laminated material incorporating high density polyethylene. It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify the tag to be made of a cross-laminated material incorporating high density polyethylene in view of Machlica in order to provide a tag which is durable and is laser ink printable.

Response to Arguments

7. The declaration filed on 11-03-2003 under 37 CFR 1.131 has been considered but is ineffective to overcome the Cohen reference. Although the declaration provides evidence of conception of the invention and reduction to practice prior to the filing date of the Cohen reference (June 10, 1998), the declaration fails to provide evidence of due diligence from prior to the filing date of the Cohen reference to the filing of instant the application (January 26, 2001). Moreover, since the instant application was not filed until January 26, 2001, more than two years after the applicant's asserted reduction to practice of prior to June 10, 1998, the applicant's declaration could be construed as providing evidence that due diligence has not been established.
8. The examiner notes the applicant did not present any arguments specific to the prior art rejection of claims 14-24 and 27-30 made in the previous Office action and has thus conceded thereto.

Conclusion

9. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
